Viewing Angle Gauge Instructions

#6005

Laptop computers are great and a real convenience but when it comes to working on photographs laptops can be difficult, because the brightness of the image appears to change as your angle to the center of the screen changes. Our Viewing Angle Gauge makes it easy to verify that you are always looking at you monitor from the correct angle and centered on your screen for accurate viewing. See our video instruction manual on our website at Acratech.net.

Install the included Velcro on left or right side of your screen and centered between the top and bottom of your screen.
